Decentralized Trials Workstream Meeting Summary - June 2021

The team spent most of this meeting discussing the Site Challenges Survey that will be issued as part of this program. The purpose of the survey is to better understand what the sites are facing as modern challenges resulting from decentralized trial participation. The basis of this survey is carved from the Site Landscape Survey that SCRS issues on an annual basis. Given the importance of this topic, the questions surrounding this topic have been moved to their own survey.

The members engaged in an in-depth review of the questions and what might be missing from the survey to accurately and completely capture the struggles and opportunities for sites. The survey will be distributed in the subsequent weeks and come together with the Site Landscape survey to reflect the state of our site community as we continue through 2021.

The next meeting will see the team focusing on the final details of the survey, as well as continuing their conversations broken up into groups. These groups will be tackling the various journeys of our program – the patient, the site, and the data. The groups will focus on initial concepts of their teams and the plans they will be following.
